PRESS RELEASE

Date: May 11, 2011

On Saturday, April 30, 2011, under the direction Dr. Scopino and Mrs. Mike, several students from the Capt. Nathan Hale Middle School participated in the Connecticut State History Day competition. The following students worked hard and were successful during the competition: Tucker Bedard, Mindy Gosselin, Dan Lawrence, Dan Gebhardt, Doug Pellegrin, Gina Wiese, and Adam Grace.

The administration and staff are extremely proud of the professional way in which these students represented our school. Additionally, we are delighted to announce that both Gina Wiese and Adam Grace placed in their divisions. As a result of their performance, both Gina and Adam will advance to the next level in the competition. Next, they will display their talent at the National History Day Competition in Washington D.C. this June. Also noteworthy, Gina Wiese received a special award for her outstanding effort and research in Women's history.

Please contact Dr. Al Scopino or Mrs. Sue Mike at the Capt. Nathan Hale Middle School for additional details or questions at 860-742-7334.
